

The share of above-ground sightings differs by fur color

Even a simple rate summary hints that behavior and visibility vary by group

